

FILM PROGRAM

FOG CITY FILM FESTIVAL. short films. short festival. March 8, 2008

INTRODUCTION

1

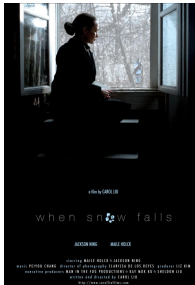

The Sunday Man

Written and Directed by: Danielle Shamash
Producer: Rebecca Rankin
Director of Photography: Art Meyerhoff
Edited by: John F. Mullin
Music by: Chris Tilton
Starring: Annie Potts, Ted Rooney, Peter Coyote

The misadventures of a remarkably peculiar man who has some very unusual ideas about who he is.

First Prize, Student Film Awards, BAFTA
Platinum Award, Houston Worldfest Film Festival
Best Student Film, Sacramento Film and Music Festival
First Prize for Student Short Film, CINEGEAR Expo
Finalist, NBC Comedy Shorts Competition
Best Short for a Children's Audience, Cinemagic
Internation Film Festival (Ireland)

2

When Snow Falls

Written and Directed by: Carol Liu
Producer: Liz Kim
Director of Photography: Clarissa De Los Reyes
Music by: Peiyong Chang
Starring: Maile Holck, Jackson Ning

"The waters of the Heng River remind me of things which happened a long time ago. Do you Still remember Anmei?"
river to the underworld

A father tries to convey to his daughter a message from another time. A woman returns from her business trip and discovers a mysterious package. What these two have in common is more than they could have ever known in one lifetime.

World Premiere, First Run Film Festival, New York

His Good Will

Written, Directed and Produced by: Cayman Grant
Producer: Jim Sharon, Scott Parajo, Cale Finot
Director of Photography: Cale Finot
Edited by: Jess Bryden, Stacy Pietrafitta
Music by: Jeffrey Kite
Starring: Donis Leonard Jr., Ashley Jones, James Avery, Arita Trahan

His Good Will is a touching story set in 1950 about a young boy struggling against poverty in a small town, and how his innocence and optimism, in the simplest of ways, touch those around him.

Following up on her award winning short Soup Ladle, writer and director Cayman Grant screens her latest film to a private audience for the first time at the Fog City Film Festival. Soup Ladle was recently honored for Best Short Film at the Silver Wave International Film Festival.

The Butcher's Daughter

Director: Daniel Casey
Written by: Brian Kistler and Daniel Casey
Producer: Jonah Bekhor
Director of Photography: Sean Steigemeier
Edited by: Terry Walters
Production Designer: John L. Booth III
Starring: J. Kenneth Campbell, Megan Park, Graham Beckel, Patrick J. Adams

When Two Irish Gangsters from Chicago arrive unexpectedly on Sarah's doorstep demanding protection, she must confront not only her father's mysterious past, but the violence that descends upon their home.

Winner, Outstanding Cinematography in a Student Film, American Society of Cinematographers

3

4

Q & A